PRESS RELEASE

Foster Printing Service, Inc. announces FSC Certification

Michigan City, January 2nd, 2010: In a continuing effort to provide customers with environmentally conscious products, Foster Printing Service, Inc. has completed the necessary steps to receive FSC Certification (SCS-COC-002971) through Scientific Certification Systems. This certification allows customers to purchase products that meet strict tracking requirements and guarantees that their piece is printed on paper that comes from a well-managed forest.

FSC certification provides internationally recognized standards that create a connection between responsibly managed forests and conscientious production practices. This connection makes it easier for businesses to make buying decisions that benefit the environment and the people that support the timber industry. FSC standards can be found in more than 50 countries around the world.

About Scientific Certification Systems (SCS): SCS is an independent third-party certifier of environmental, sustainability, food quality and food purity claims. Over two decades, SCS has developed internationally recognized standards and certification programs aimed at spurring the highest level of environmental improvements, social accountability and product performance. Its programs span a wide cross-section of the economy, recognizing accomplishments in the fields of green building, product manufacturing, forestry, retail, agricultural production, fisheries, energy, and food processing and handling. For more information about SCS, visit www.scs-certified.com or call 510-452-8000.

About The Forest Stewardship Council (FSC): The Forest Stewardship Council (FSC) is an international organization that promotes environmentally appropriate, socially beneficial, and economically viable management of the world's forests. For more information, visit www.fsc.org.
